- Language learning... at work... at home...
You decide when, where and for how long!
- DanskABC.dk is used by more than 85% of the Danish language schools. And more than 11.000 students are registered in the system (April 2006).

We all learn in different ways. Many people studying language need repetition and visualisation in the learning process. DanskABC.dk simulates an easy-to-relate-to, interactive reality using storytelling and game-like scenarios. This student interaction and involvement with the program and the language assignments generates a high degree of self-motivation.

Scope

The application has 42 story and exercise e-learning lessons. Each is 45 minutes in duration. Additionally, the application contains 18 assignments seeking to establish a dialogue. Finally the application has approx. 1000 training exercises, in which the student can practice specific linguistic and grammar skills.

Students may repeat the lessons as many times as they like, and a feedback- and scorecard will inform them on which skills to focus on and develop. As part of the program the student can download reports on progression and elapsed time.
