D. Notification that relevant information will be passed on to local Danish authorities

Such information includes:

- The grounds for issuing you a residence permit

The municipality will be informed if:

- Your residence permit is revoked or not extended

- Your residence permit is found to have expired

E. Notification that Danish authorities have registered information about you and your affairs

The information you supply or have supplied in connection with your application for a passport will be registered in the Aliens Register. The same holds true for any information you give in conjunction with an application to extend your residence permit.

The Aliens Register is a computerised register maintained by the Danish Immigration Service.

If you receive a residence permit, it will be registered in the Central Person Register. The Central Person Register is a computerised register maintained by the Ministry of Welfare.

The information in the Aliens Register and the Central Person Register will be used to answer questions relating to your residence in Denmark. The Regional State Administration (record keeping), the police (record keeping and verification) and the Ministry of Integration (reviewing complaints) will have access to the information about you contained in the Aliens Register and the Central Person Register.

Other authorities or organisations will receive information about you from the Aliens Register and the Central Person Register if they require the information to address questions relating to your residence in Denmark.

You are obligated to provide the information necessary for deciding whether you are eligible for a Danish residence permit. Failure to provide the information can result in a fine or up to four months of imprisonment, as well as placing your residence permit in jeopardy. You are entitled to access information about yourself in the Aliens Register and the Central Person Register. Enquiries about this can be addressed to the Danish Immigration Service, Ryesgade 53, DK-2100 Copenhagen Ø.

F. Information regarding possible verification by the authorities of the information you have supplied

The Integration Service or another Danish authority may seek to verify the accuracy of the information you gave in your application. This may happen while your application is being reviewed or after you have received your extension. Verification may be conducted at random and is not necessarily an indication that the Immigration Service suspects you of providing false information.

Verification may involve the following:

- Checking public registers, such as the Central Person Register
- Contacting other authorities, such as municipalities
- Contacting third parties, such as employers or places of study
- Turning up in person at your residence, place of study or workplace

You may be asked to supply additional information as part of the verification process.

G. Information about possible consequences if you apply for a residence permit while in Denmark on a visa (short term)

If you are in Denmark on a visa (short term) and you submit an application for a residence permit while in the country, please note that this may have the following consequences:

- You may be sentenced to a waiting period of up to five years. Normally, you will not be eligible for a visa during the waiting period. However, this does not apply to applications for a residence and work permit under the Job Card scheme or applications for family reunification of spouses.
- If you are in Denmark on a visitor's visa contingent on an economic guarantee by a person residing in Denmark (DKK 54,813 – 2008 level), the Immigration Service will normally forfeit this guarantee if you apply for a Danish residence permit while in Denmark. However, this does not apply to applications for a residence and work permit under the Job Card scheme.

Please note that you can apply for a residence and work permit under the Job Card scheme without risking the consequences listed above. Furthermore, you can apply for family reunification of spouses without risking a waiting period. However, any economic guarantee will be forfeited.
